REPORT.

SESSION 1864–65.

STUDENTS.

The number of Pupils in the College during the Session 1864–65 was 804: viz. 384 Students and 420 Boys in the Junior School. The Students of the Faculty of Medicine were 163, of whom 60 were new Students: the Students of the Faculty of Arts and Laws were 221, including 11 attending the Evening Classes of French and Geology. The new Students in the General Classes were 135. The Students of Analytical Chemistry in the Birkbeck Laboratory were 29. The highest number of Boys in the School in any one Term was 349.

The receipt for the Session 1864–65 from Students and Pupils for Fees, omitting fees for Hospital Practice, was £11,877 17*s.* Of that sum, £2864 4*s.* was received for attendance on Medical Classes, £3099 18*s.* for attendance on the Classes of the Faculty of Arts and Laws, and £5913 15*s.* on account of the Junior School. The share of Professors and Masters, exclusive of the annual augmentations to the Professors of Natural Philosophy and Comparative Anatomy, was £9373 19*s.* 6*d.* The College portion was £2503 17*s.* 6*d.* The sum of £1005 9*s.*, received for Clinical Instruction at the Hospital, was paid to the Hospital Committee towards the support of the Charity.

The entries for the current Session up to this period are—Medical Students 177, of whom 54 are new Students; new entries to the Hospital 50; Students of the Faculty of Arts and Laws 212 (of whom 119 are new Students); Analytical Chemistry 24. The number of Boys in the Junior School is 351, which exceeds the number by which the School has ever before been attended in any Term. At the corresponding period of last year it was 337. There is thus an improvement in every department of the College this year, as compared with the last, which was itself in advance of the preceding year.

The Classes of the Faculty of Arts, in which there is an increase of Students this Session, are, Latin, Greek, French, German, Mathematics, Drawing, Geology and Mineralogy, History, Political Economy, and Law. The number in the Class of Chemistry, of Students of both faculties, is 128; up to the same date last year it was 88. It is difficult to institute a comparison of the number of Students now attending the Natural Philosophy Classes with that of last year, on account of the division into two Classes of Mathematical Physics and Experimental Physics; but it may be stated that last year the number in the single Class was 45, and that in the two Classes together this year there are 80 entries.

COLLEGE PRIZES.

The Joseph Hume Scholarship in Political Economy of £20 a year, tenable for three years, was awarded to Mr. Edward Henry Busk, of Highgate.

The Jews' Commemoration Scholarship of £15 a year, tenable for two years, was awarded to Mr. Frank Watson, of London.

In the Medical Faculty the Atkinson-Morley Surgical Scholarship of £45 per annum, tenable for three years, was awarded to Mr. Philip Brook Mason, of Burton-on-Trent.

The Longridge Prize of £40 for General Proficiency in Medicine and Surgery for the Session 1865, was awarded to Mr. Bryan Holme Allen, of London.

The Filliter Exhibition in Pathological Anatomy, of £30, was obtained by Mr. John Williams, of Llangadock.

The Andrews Entrance Exhibition for Classics, Mathematics, and Physics combined, was gained by Mr. George Serrell, of the North London Collegiate School, Camden Town, the Rev. W. C. Williams, M.A., Head Master: the Exhibition for Mathematics and Physics was awarded to Mr. James Morton Pask, of the same School; and the Exhibition for Classics alone was obtained by Mr. George Goodair Dey, also of the same School. The First Medical Entrance Exhibition was gained by Mr. Richard Thomas Smith, the second by Mr. H. N. Martin, and the third by Mr. J. F. Darby.

THE SCHOOL.

The satisfaction derived by the Council from the increase of Pupils in the School, as shown in the earlier passages of this Report, and from the evidence thus afforded of the estimation in which the School is held, is confirmed by the Report of their Committee, on whom it has devolved to inquire into its progress and condition during the last Session, and up to the present time.

The Committee observe that the numbers during each term of the last Session were considerably larger than those of the corresponding terms in the Session 1863–64 (although that Session exhibited a sensible increase above either of the two immediately preceding), and that the numbers of the first term of the present Session present a still larger increase above the number of the corresponding term in any of the four preceding years. Respecting the condition of the School during the last Session, the Council are assured, from the testimony borne by all the Masters generally, and especially by the Vice-Master, that the discipline of the School and the good behaviour of the Pupils has been creditable and complete; that good order has been maintained, while the number of punishments has been diminished; and that the amount of effective study and of instruction has been on the whole satisfactory.

Of the Mathematical and Physical departments the Reports are quite favourable, especially the Class of Physics conducted by Mr. Gill, which appears to be alike popular and effective.

The School recently established for beginners is found to work as favourably as can be expected.

The Council have learned with regret that, at the end of the Session, Mr. Shields was compelled, by an increase of his duties elsewhere, to relinquish the Social Science Class, which he had hitherto conducted with so much ability and success. Until a permanent successor can be appointed, Dr. Hodgson has undertaken the conduct of the Class; and the thanks of the College are due to him for this obliging service.

The Council, after inquiry and mature consideration, determined, as one of the means of improving the financial position of the College, to raise the Term Fee for all boys, except those in the Beginners' School, from £6 to £7, omitting the charge of 3*s.* 6*d.* per term for stationery to the boys paying the higher fee. This augmented scale of fees commenced with the present term; and the Council learn from the Report of their Committee that its first application has been found coincident with numbers not merely undiminished but even somewhat enlarged.

The former Pupils of the School who in the College Examinations obtained Prizes and Certificates of Honour were:—Andrews Scholarship for Mathematics, Mr. Numa E. Hartog; Andrews Prize of £25 for Mathematics, Mr. W. Alston; Andrews Scholarship to Students of Two Years' standing, Mr. Percy J. Harding.

In the ordinary Classes of the College, all the highest Prizes in Mathematics and Natural Philosophy were gained by former Pupils of the School, Mr. Percy Harding obtaining the highest place in the highest Classes of both subjects, and Mr. Alston the highest places in the next highest Classes of the same. On the side of Languages, Mr. Robert Charles obtained the Prize in the Junior Classes of both Greek and German. In the Class of Comparative Grammar, the first and second Prizes were won by former Pupils of the School, Mr. Lewis Solomon and Mr. Frederick Toplis, both of whom obtained distinction in other ways also. The former gained the first Prize in Mineralogy, besides five Certificates, viz. in the Lower Senior Division of Mathematics, standing next after the Prizeman, and in German, Civil Engineering, Geology, and Architecture. Mr. Toplis obtained the first Prize in Geology, and one of two equal Prizes in the branch of Architecture that deals with construction. The Prizes for Political Economy and English Law have been awarded to Mr. Edward H. Busk.

On the Medical side, Mr. Temple Orme gained an Entrance Exhibition of £20; Mr. Toplis a Medal in Chemistry; Mr. Alfred H. Garrod, the Silver Medal in Botany. To Mr. Edward De Morgan were awarded, first, a Prize in the Special Class of Clinical Medicine, and then the Fellowes Gold Medal.

At the Examination for Honours in Midwifery:—Mr. G. Oliver obtained the fourth place in the First Class, and Mr. A. Bruce the eleventh; Mr. W. V. Snow gained the second place in the Second Class, and Mr. B. H. Allen the third. Of distinctions gained in Examinations beyond the University, Mr. Percy Harding obtained a Senior Taylor Scholarship in Sidney Sussex College, Cambridge.

PROFESSORSHIPS.

Important changes in the Professorships have taken place since the last General Meeting. In the Faculty of Medicine, the Chair of Midwifery was resigned by Dr. Murphy at the close of the Session. Nine applications for the office were received; that of Dr. Graily Hewitt obtained the preference, and on him the appointment was conferred. Dr. Hewitt received his professional education in the College.

The Report of last year informed the General Meeting that an offer by Dr. Sankey, late Medical Superintendent of the Female Department in Hanwell Asylum, to give a Course of Lectures on Mental Diseases, had been thankfully accepted. A very efficient and instructive Course was given by him during the Summer Term. Subsequently the Council resolved to institute in the College a permanent Lectureship on Mental Diseases. Their intention was duly advertised, and five Candidates presented themselves. Dr. Sankey was one of these, and he received the appointment.

In the Faculty of Arts, Mr. Potter retired from the Professorship of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy.

During the consequent vacancy, the question whether it would be desirable to separate the subjects of Mathematical Physics and Experimental Physics was taken into consideration; and the Council, advised by the Senate, after a survey of the qualifications of the Candidates who presented themselves, to separate the branches of Instruction, adopted the recommendation. The Candidates were in number as follows:—For the Mathematical and Experimental Chairs united, three; for the Mathematical Chair, either alone or united with the Experimental, two; for the Mathematical alone, three; for the Experimental alone, one. Dr. Thomas Archer Hirst was chosen for the appointment of Professor of Mathematical Physics, and Mr. George Carey Foster for that of Experimental Physics. Mr. Foster was a former Student of the College, and took the Degree of B.A. in the University of London.

The intended resignation by Dr. Donaldson of the Professorship of Architecture was announced in the last Report. In this case, as in that of the Professor of Natural Philosophy, the expediency of having the two branches of the Professorship separate or united was considered, but with an opposite result. Mr. Thomas Hayter Lewis, one of the two Candidates, proved to be prepared, and well qualified, to undertake both departments, that of Architecture as a Fine Art, and Architecture as a Science, and he was appointed Professor, with the duty of instructing the Class in both branches. Dr. Donaldson has assumed the title of Emeritus Professor. A Medal bearing his portrait, struck at the instance of his professional brethren "to commemorate his zealous and eminent services in promoting the study of Architecture," was presented to him, at a Meeting of the Royal Institute of British Architects on the 15th of January last, by the President, A. J. B. Hope, Esq., M.P.; and soon afterwards a Resolution was passed by the Institute and communicated to the Council of the College, that a Silver Medal struck from the same die would be given annually by the Council of the Institute, so long as it appears to them to be desirable, to be competed for by the Students of Architecture at University College, at the disposition of the Professor of that Class. The Council of the College accepted the offer with thanks.

With a view more especially to meet the requirements of Candidates for the Civil Service of India, the Council have appointed a Professor of Telugu. This office had been vacant since the resignation, in 1859, of Mr. John Dowson, who, between the years 1855 and 1859, had been Professor of Hindustani and Telugu. The Council having been advised by the Senate that Mr. C. P. Brown, reputed to be the first Telugu Scholar of the day, would probably be willing to undertake the duties of the office, offered to appoint him Professor of Telugu in the College, and he accepted the invitation.

At the commencement of the present Session, Professor Masson received from the Government the appointment of Professor of Rhetoric and English Literature in the University of Edinburgh, and resigned the Chair of English Language and Literature, which he had held in the College during thirteen years. He was able to attend to the instruction of his Class during the first fortnight of the Term, and Dr. William Ballantyne Hodgson kindly offered to conduct its studies until a successor to Mr. Masson was appointed. The offer was gratefully accepted. On the resignation of Mr. Masson the Council recorded their sense of the benefit the College had received from his valuable services during the period that he had held the Chair of English Language in the College, and their hope that he would meet with equal success in the University of Edinburgh. The applicants for the vacant Chair were fifteen. They had all good qualifications, and some of them were gentlemen of eminent distinction in our current literature. Of these Mr. Henry Morley was selected for the appointment.

At the close of the last Session the Professorship of Jurisprudence was resigned by Dr. Joseph Sharpe. Six candidates applied for the vacant office. The Council appointed Mr. H. J. Roby, M.A., to the Professorship.

The Professorships of Hindu Law and of Bengali became vacant in consequence of Professor Tagore's departure for India shortly after the close of the last Session. The vacancy in the Professorship of Hindu Law was advertised. Three candidates presented themselves, and Mr. E. P. Wood has been appointed Professor for the remainder of this Session and for the next Session *.

FACULTY OF ARTS.

CHANGE IN TIME OF OPENING AND CLOSING SESSION.

An alteration in the time of the Summer Matriculation of the University of London from the first Monday in July to the last Monday in June yearly, rendered it necessary to reconsider the customary time for the Distribution of Prizes to the Students of the Faculty of Arts, which had been the 30th of June, or a day as near to that as possible. Under the new regulations it became almost certain that that day would fall within the period of the University Examination, which lasts five days; and the consequence was that a considerable number of the Junior Students of the Faculty could not be present at the Distribution of Prizes. As a remedy for this inconvenience, without shortening the time of study and teaching, it was decided that in future the Session of the Faculty of Arts, which to that time had begun generally on the 15th of October, or on a convenient day of the week nearest to the 15th, should begin on the 8th of October, or a convenient day of the week nearest to that, and end on or about the 26th June. This change will be attended by the advantage of bringing the commencement of the Session in both Faculties as nearly together as would be convenient.

* Mr. Khetter Mohun Dutt, a native of Bengal, has been appointed Teacher of the Bengali Language for this Session.

GILCHRIST SCHOLARSHIPS.

At their Session on the 13th of January, the Council received from Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Secretary of the Gilchrist Educational Fund, in the name of the Trustees, Dr. Charles Holland, F. R. S., Sir John Bowring, LL.D., F.R.S., Dr. Robert Verity, M.D., William Burnley Hume, Esq., and George Grote, Esq., D.C.L., F.R.S., a communication as follows:—

"Sir,—I am directed to request that you will inform the Council of University College that the Trustees of the Gilchrist Educational Fund propose to appropriate a sum of £300 annually to the establishment of a Scholarship of the value of £100 a year, tenable for three years, to be held by a native of India whilst prosecuting a course of Academical Study in University College, in either of the Faculties of Arts, Law, Science, or Medicine.

"It is the intention of the Trustees that the Exhibitioners shall be selected by competitive examination from candidates who shall have been previously studying at one of the Universities of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay; and that the appointment be made in a three years' rota from each of these Universities in turn.

"I am in correspondence with the Authorities of the Presidential Universities in regard to the conditions of this nomination; and I have good reason to hope that the scheme to be adopted will secure a regular succession of Exhibitioners well qualified to benefit, under judicious guidance, by the advantages thus placed within their reach.

"The Trustees, however, cannot contemplate the position of natives of India left entirely to themselves in this metropolis without serious apprehensions for their welfare, and they are therefore especially anxious to learn whether the Council can hold out the definite prospect of any arrangement by which these Exhibitioners can be placed under the care of some gentleman who would especially charge himself with their supervision, and who would hold himself responsible to the Trustees for the due application of the funds which would be paid into his hands. Some arrangement of this kind is considered by the Trustees as essential to the success of the scheme, and they hope that the Council will not find it difficult to form one.

"It is desirable that I should add that the Trustees feel themselves bound by the terms of the Gilchrist Trust to reserve to themselves the power of making any change which may hereafter seem to them desirable in the conditions of this appropriation, or even of withdrawing it altogether if the result should not prove satisfactory. But no change would be made without ample notice."

The Council will carefully consider the question of providing for the residence of Native Students.

Dr. Gilchrist was a subscriber for two original shares in the College, and always evinced a warm interest in its prosperity. Other Scholarships in which the College is somewhat interested have been formed by the Gilchrist Trustees. These are Scholarships of £50 a year, tenable for three years, for the assistance of Students while preparing for Degrees in the University of London. A Scholarship will be annually awarded to the Student passing highest in the Summer Matriculation of the University, who shall previously have been approved in other respects by the Principal of University Hall. Scholars will be required to attend annually in University College at least three courses of lectures, of which one must be in a modern language.

MR. SAMUEL SHARPE'S DONATION.

At a Session of Council on the 1st of April a donation was received from Mr. Samuel Sharpe, accompanied by the expression of a wish that the sum should be applied towards the expenses of any Evening Classes that might be established in the College.

The Council passed a vote of thanks to Mr. Sharpe for his generous donation, and they have lately resolved that a special meeting of the Council shall be summoned for an early day in the month of March for the reconsideration of the subject of Evening Classes.

MARMOR HOMERICUM.

(Vide p. 16.)

At a Session of Council on the 4th of November last, the Secretary reported that the setting up of the Marmor Homericum of the Baron Triqueti, presented to the College by Mr. Grote, the Treasurer, had been completed, and that, for the more convenient viewing of the work at all seasons, Mr. Grote had caused three arches of the Cloister to be inclosed with glass at his expense. It was then resolved unanimously: "That the Council desire on the occasion of this splendid gift to the College to record the deep sense which they entertain of the liberality and zeal and unceasing devotion to the interests of the College, as well as to those of the University of London, of which it is the parent, which have marked the conduct of Mr. Grote during the long period of his connexion with this Institution."

At a Session of Council on the 2nd of December, a letter dated 11th November, from the Treasurer, was read, as follows:—

"I am very much gratified to be assured of the kind appreciation entertained by the Council of such services as I have been able to render to University College as well as to the University of London.

"In regard to the Marmor Homericum, I rejoice to learn that it has given as much satisfaction to others as it has to myself. I feel it both a pleasure and a duty to mention, in justice to the distinguished artist to whom alone the excellence of the work is owing, that Baron de Triqueti declined to receive any further recompense for the Marmor than what was just sufficient to meet the expenses (in themselves very heavy) actually incurred in executing it, and that he felt earnest interest in associating his name, in this classical design, with an Institution so catholic in its educational usefulness, and so accessible to all lovers of Art as University College."

It was resolved unanimously: "That the Council gratefully appreciate the liberal feeling of Baron de Triqueti, and his friendly sympathies towards University College; that they highly value the noble monument of his invention and genius, which now decorates their Cloisters, as calculated to impart to their Students an interest in Classical study, and an improved taste, and as adding to the College itself new attraction and dignity in the eyes of the public."

DONATIONS TO THE LIBRARIES AND MUSEUMS.

The Council have been agreeably reminded of their late esteemed colleague Dr. Boott, and the numerous gifts of books for which the College Library is indebted to him, by a donation from his Widow of a collection of works of Science consisting of sixty volumes. A gift has been received from Dr. William Francis of a set of the London and Edinburgh Philosophical Magazine, 2nd and 3rd Series, 1827 to 1850; and from Sir Roderick Murchison a valuable collection completing the set (a small portion only of which was possessed by the College) of the Memoirs of the Geological Survey of Great Britain, and a Catalogue of the contents of Mining Record Office, &c.

A beautiful Model in plaster of a portion of the Royal Exchange has been generously contributed by Mr. Tite, M.P., to the means of instruction for the Classes of Architecture in the College; and Mr. Jabez Hogg has presented an Equestrian Statue of Richard I. by the sculptor Mr. J. Wyatt. This is a very acceptable addition to the collection of Casts in the Drawing School of the College.

RETIREMENT OF THE MASTER OF THE ROLLS.

At their Session on the 9th of December, the Council received with very great regret a letter from the Master of the Rolls, in which he resigned his office as Member of the Council. He stated that the occupation of his time by the duties of his office and by his engagements relative to the Code of Laws for the East Indies, rendered this step imperative upon him, and that he severed with regret a tie of thirty-five years' standing, and a connexion which he had considered a great honour to him, and, as a means of doing good, very gratifying to him.

DEATH OF DR. MACKENZIE.

The Council regret the loss of the services of their late colleague, Dr. Mackenzie, who died in July last at an early age. After a very distinguished career as a Medical Student of the College and a Graduate of the University of London, Dr. Mackenzie was appointed a Fellow of the College in 1844: in 1861 he was elected a Member of the Council.

FINANCES.

The statement of Receipt and Expenditure, among the Financial Papers prepared by the Accountant (p. 20), shows that the Expenditure was £1369 7*s.* 8*d.* more than the Receipt. It must be added that the Expenditure thus stated was exclusive of the cost of additions to Furniture, to the Library, to Museums, and to the Birkbeck Laboratory. This is included in the Capital and Trust Account (pp. 18, 19), and amounted to £173 8*s.* 6*d.*, viz. £112 18*s.* 2*d.*, £47 9*s.* 4*d.*, £12 9*s.* 0*d.*, and 12*s.* respectively. Besides, there were left unpaid £210, debts for Printing incurred during the year. Thus the entire excess of Expenditure and Liabilities amounted to £1752 16*s.* 2*d.* The large sums expended in House Repairs (£1158), and in advertising (£557), being in the former case £850, and in the latter £332 over the average of the three preceding years, will in some measure account for this excess. The charge for House Repairs includes painting in the Library, Hall, Cloisters, and other parts of the interior, and the entire exterior painting of the College, and various improvements for the School, determined on by the Council in the Session 1863–64. They were alluded to in the last Report. The increase in the cost of advertising was occasioned mainly by the exertions to make widely known the new institution of Entrance Exhibitions in both Faculties, and the arrangements for a Department for younger Boys in the School.

The promise made by the Council to give their serious attention to the repeated failure of the Receipts to meet the Expenditure has been faithfully kept. Great pains have been taken by a Committee in considering the subject: some economies in the Expenditure have been effected, and the augmentation mentioned in the former part of the Report, in the Fees for Pupils of the School has been made. The Council expect with confidence that the result will be a considerable increase in the portion applicable to the general payment of the School expenses, and that this increase, combined with the improvement in the College Classes, will cause a more satisfactory state of Finances at the close of the current Session.

PATRIOT FUND.

The Schoolmasters' Classes ceased in the Session 1863–64; and the Council deemed it expedient that the Patriot Fund should be treated as part of the general Receipts of the College as long as there is an annual deficiency in the revenue of the College. This view of the Council having been communicated to Lord Brougham, he expressed his concurrence in it, and authorized the application of the Fund in the mode proposed.

THE HOSPITAL.

The Council have again to report an improvement in the prospects of the Hospital, although the difficulty of raising within the year funds equal to the necessary Expenditure still remains very great. The efforts made in that direction during the last year were but partially successful: at the end of the period the Debt had again increased, and from £4500 had risen to £8000. In the mean time notice had been received of a Legacy of £4000 by Mr. Soames, and the investments have increased by £2500, and are now £14,870 Stock. The account with the Executors of Mr. Yates has not yet been settled; Mr. Cookson, as Solicitor to the Hospital, has been in communication with Dr. Hare on the subject, and gives reasons for expecting a speedy and satisfactory arrangement. Alterations and improvements have been made by the erection of two New Rooms for better accommodation in the Out-Patients' Department, and with the view of improving the efficiency of the School in Clinical Instruction, at a cost, including additional Furniture, of upwards of £900; considerable improvements have also been made in the Kitchen Department. Two Invalid Chairs, for the use of Patients in the Wards, have been presented by Mrs. Arthur W. Jaffray, in compliance with a wish expressed, by her deceased Husband. The Annual Dinner, at which Lord Belper presided in June last, produced £1983; and a Grand Musical Performance recently conducted by Mr. Benedict for the benefit of the Charity has been attended with a net profit of upwards of £300, and has afforded the opportunity of making the wants of the Hospital more generally known. His Royal Highness the Duke of Cambridge has consented to preside on the 18th of April at the Annual Dinner in aid of the Funds of the Hospital.

WORKING MEN'S MEMORIAL OF GRATITUDE TO SIR ROBERT PEEL.

Three Institutions, viz. the Camden Town Working Men's Club and Institute, the Greenock Mechanics' Institution, and the Guildford Working Men's Institution, received contributions from the Income of this Fund in 1865. Books, &c., costing £15, were furnished to each of them.

The expenses incurred by the Trustees for advertising, printing, &c., amounted to £3 13*s.* 3*d.* The balance of dividends at this day is £66 3*s.* 8*d.* The intention to make, this Spring, four Gifts of books, at the cost of £15 for each Gift, will be advertised forthwith.

Secretary.

MARMOR HOMERICUM, DESIGNED AND EXECUTED BY BARON H. DE TRIQUETI.

This mural decoration, executed in a manner and by processes hitherto unknown, consists of different marbles inlaid and engraved. The colouring is given by the incrustation of cements, which have the same hardness, adherence, and durability as the marble itself. It is not affected by the atmospheric influences often fatal to fresco painting.

CENTRAL COMPOSITION.

Homer singing to the Grecian people of Delos. His song depicts the agony of Andromache. The verses, in which she is described as beholding from the walls of Troy the body of Hector dragged at the chariot-wheels of Achilles (Iliad, xxii. 465), are graven on the pedestal by the side of the Poet.

Around Homer are grouped the Delian maidens attached to the temple of Apollo, with listeners of various character.

Symbolic figure of the Iliad suspending, in token of triumph, the shield of Minerva at the feet of Victory.

UPPER BORDER.

The quarrel of Agamemnon and Achilles. By the side of Agamemnon are Menelaus, Ulysses, and Nestor. The goddess Minerva intervenes to check the violence of Achilles; near him stand Patroclus and Calchas. (Iliad, i. 197.)

LOWER BORDER.

Achilles, in his tent, mourns with his followers the death of Patroclus. Priam, embracing his knees, supplicates him to surrender the body of Hector. Mercury, having conducted Priam in safety to the tent, withdraws, touched by this scene of sorrow. (Iliad, xxiv. 447, 514.)

UPPER ANGLE.

Medallion in Sculpture. Head of Venus, the instigator of the Trojan War.

LOWER ANGLE.—SCULPTURE.

Helena contemplating the veil, into which she is working a representation of the combats between Greeks and Trojans. (Iliad, iii. 125.)

UPPER BORDER.

Calypso, in obedience to the commands of Jupiter conveyed by Mercury, consents to the departure of Ulysses. Her nymphs bring wine, fruits, and other provisions for the voyage. (Odyss. v. 112, 265.)

LOWER BORDER.

Ulysses slaying the Suitors. The first arrow has pierced the throat of Antinous, who overthrows in his fall one of the festive tables. (Odyss. xxii. 1, 42.)

UPPER ANGLE.

Medallion in Sculpture. Head of Minerva, tutelary Goddess of Ulysses.

LOWER ANGLE.

Medallion in Sculpture. Penelope at her web, secretly destroying during the night the work of the day.

The College accounts examined, posted, and balanced by us, and the preceding statements extracted therefrom.

HAWKINS and SOULBY, Accountants.

It will be seen that the excess of Expenditure over Income for the General College Establishment is this year £1369 7*s.* 8*d.*, whilst in the previous year it was £1091 5*s.* 11*d.*, a fact which, considering the economy of the management of the College, appeals strongly to the liberality of its friends and patrons.
